GERMAN CONSULATE DESTROYED

VETERANS HONOR THEIR DEPARTED COMRADES

Big Parade of Military And Naval Forces Joined "Boys In Blue"
In Memorial Exercises

Memorial day, a day set apart for the honoring of the dead and especially the soldiers and sailors who fell in the Civil War, was fittingly observed in this city as is always the custom. The day was ideal in every respect, with a warm sun and smiling skies and just enough breeze to make the air cool and clear.

The exercises in the afternoon in the honor of the departed soldiers and sailors was observed by the big parade which formed and started from the square at two o'clock. All the military and naval bodies available were in the line and the post of honor was held by the veterans. All along the line of march the great crowd of spectators applauded as the old "Boys in Blue" swung along looking their best. It was their day and their dead that was being honored and they took it as though they realized it. The ranks are thinner than they were a year ago and each of the "Boys" is a little older, but they marched as proudly as they did fifty-four years ago when they were young and were going to the war to fight for the Union which was only preserved by their gallant efforts on the bloody fields of battle.

Following the route of the parade as laid out the usual exercises were held at the cemeteries and the graves of their departed comrades decked with new flags and flowers. It is likely that some of them were wondering how much longer they would have the honor of doing this work. But if any did have these thoughts it was not shown by their faces and it is hoped that all that remain will be spared many, many years to come.

French Cruiser Opened Bombardment on Official Building at Syrian City of Haifa

Russians Claim This Week Will End German Offence in San River District

(Special to The Herald)

Paris, June 1.—A French cruiser bombarded and destroyed the German consulate at the Syrian city of Haifa, the Ministry of Marine announced today. The action was caused by the fact that the German consul had incited Turkish soldiers to fire on a boat carrying a flag of truce and also to commit deeds of violence on the graves of soldiers of Napoleon, according to the Ministry's statement. The bombardment took place Monday and dispatches were received here last night. No details beyond the bare facts were sent to the War Office.

Petrograd, June 1.—Russian military critics see in the halt of the Austro-German drive in the San River district of Galicia the beginning of the end of the Teutonic campaign for the recapture of Przemyśl and Lemberg. All reports of the operations in Galicia agree that the Teuton allies have suffered severe losses and the experts declare that it has become necessary for the Austro-German forces to again take up a defensive campaign in which the Russians, because of superiority of numbers, will have the entire advantage. The Bourne Gazette expert predicts the present campaign will end this week and that the Teutons will be in full retreat from the San.

AUSTRIAN AEROPLANES
CONTINUE BOMBARDMENT
Rome, June 1.—Austrian aeroplanes

again raided the eastern coast of Italy today. Bombs were dropped at Bari and Brindisi on the Adriatic. At Bari one boy was killed and at Brindisi many were hurt and several houses destroyed.

TURKS CLAIMING GAINS
IN LAND OPERATIONS
Constantinople, June 1.—The Turkish war office today issued the following official statement:
"The enemy on Monday attempted to pass around our right flank at Arbinurcan. They were repulsed and one hundred were killed. Many more dead were observed in the valley after the enemy had retired. They also attempted by a surprise attack to recapture the central trenches which they lost Sunday, but were again repulsed with severe losses. Artillery and rifle fire continue along the front near Sedul-Bahr."

FRENCH ALSO CLAIM GAINS
Paris, June 1.—Steady gains for the allied troops in the Pardonelles sphere of operations is announced by the French war office following the receipt of dispatches from the French commanders in the field headquarters and the commander of the fleet. The French colonials captured an important Turkish fortification Sunday and two counter attacks made by the Ottoman troops were repulsed.
"Violent fighting for the possession of the sugar factory at Souchez marked Monday's stage of the battle between the German and French forces north of Arras," says an official statement issued this afternoon by the war office. "The French took 60 German prisoners at that point. On the plateau near Notre Damede Lorette the French captured several German defence works. The New French positions are being organized and fortified to resist counter attacks. Attempts of the Germans to oust the French forces from their strong positions in the Vosges have all failed."

AMERICANS LEAVING FOR THEIR OWN COUNTRY

London, June 1.—Large numbers of Americans fearing war between the United States and Germany, are hastening from Germany into Switzerland, according to advices received here today. A dispatch to the Morning Post states that during the last few days the departure of Americans has become a "positive exodus." Many Americans who have long been residents of Germany, the dispatch continues, "declare that they have been insulted on the streets owing to the popular hatred against Americans."

LONDON RAIDED BY ZEPPELINS

(Special to The Herald)
London, June 1.—Four killed, one fatally wounded and five seriously hurt is the total casualties resulting from the long expected German air raid over London. One infant, one boy and a man and woman were killed outright, and besides the seriously injured were more than a score who suffered lesser wounds by the explosions of the bombs.

Ninety bombs were dropped. Three big fires were started and many small fires resulted from the incendiary bombs, but they were quickly extinguished by the fire department.
The attack threw the different sections of the city and the special war constables at Scotland Yard were called out to deal with the situation.

TACOMA BOYS DEFEAT SOUTHERY TEAM 16 TO 10

The Southery's crack baseball team, which has been hurling defies at all the amateur teams around the city of Portsmouth, went down to defeat when they went up against the strong team of the U. S. S. Tacoma, last Saturday afternoon at the Navy Yard grounds. The score was 16 to 10 in favor of the Tacoma.

The Southery's team was entirely outclassed at every stage of the game and although they played gamely all the way through, they couldn't stop the fast clockwork of the Tacoma's organization.

The Tacoma would like to hear from any amateur team around Portsmouth.

PORTSMOUTH THEATRE NOTES.

If you were one of the thousands of more people who were turned away from the big show house last night you will have a chance again tonight to see the same performance. This bill is one of the strongest that the management has been able to secure for some little time.

The burlesque circus sure made a hit that was a sure hit—no way to get around it. The horses, ponies, mules and dogs were clever and so was the cat and rooster. And a cat is one of the hardest animals in the world to train. The antics of these trick elephants will get a laugh out of the worst grouch in the world.

Miss Allison, the banjo girl, also pleased with her brilliant execution and well selected numbers.

Max Holden presenting comedy shadowgraphs proved to be one of the best performers in his line of work. The act is a distinct novelty and is sure to please tonight.

The other star act, a double, is McCormack and Shannon. They are billed as the Irish Song Birds, and present a comedy, singing, talking and violin specialty act. A musical act is always a winner in this city, and it is a good act, so much the better. McCormack and Shannon are certainly good.

The picture program is also a good one. The Hearst-Selig News Pictorial, with pictures of the naval parade and fleet in New York; the 16th episode of the Girl Detective series, a complete story; a Biograph feature, and an Edison comedy, makes the entire bill one of unusual strength.

GOV. WALSH VETOES BILL

Rebukes Legislature for Adopting N. Y., N. H. & H. Railroad Validation Measure.

(Special to The Herald)
Boston, June 1.—Governor Walsh today vetoed the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad $30,000,000 validation bill, and in a lengthy message rebuked the legislature for adopting a measure which he branded as contrary to the laws of the commonwealth to its railroad policy and hostile to the wishes and rights of the citizens.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

(By Frank G. Menke)

New York, May 26.—The most question of pugilism—"Was John L. Sullivan even champion of the world?"—is answered in the affirmative by Tom Andrews of Milwaukee. In his book "Ring Battles of Centuries."

Andrews burrowed into ancient pugilistic history and unearthed the following facts to uphold him in his contention:

(1) In 1869 Tom Allen, heavyweight champion of England and Mike McCoole, an American, fought for the world's championship near St. Louis and McCoole won on a foul in the ninth round.

(2) In 1873 Allen and McCoole staged another battle and on that occasion Allen was the victor. That victory restored the championship to him.

(3) Late in 1873 Joe Goss, of England, came to America and fought Allen near Covington, Ky. Goss won on a foul in the 27th round.

(4) In 1880 Paddy Ryan fought Goss at Collier, W. Va., and won the decision in the 87th round.

(5) On February 7, 1882, John L. Sullivan met Ryan at Mississippi City for $5,000 a side and knocked out Ryan in the ninth round.

Goss beat Allen, Ryan beat Goss, and Sullivan beat Ryan, so why should not Sullivan be looked upon as the world's champion after his victory over Ryan," asks Andrews.

Sullivan's victory over Ryan, and the victories of the other champions before Ryan and Sullivan were under the old London prize ring rules, but those were the rules that really governed in those days, and it was under those rules that champions were made and unmade.

In further argument that Sullivan was champion of the world, Andrews cites these facts:

In 1885 Jim Smith claimed the heavyweight title of England. Jack Davis rose up to dispute it and the men were matched for a $500 side bet. Smith won and was acclaimed the heavyweight champion of England.

On Dec. 19, 1887, Smith and Jake Kohnan, an American, fought 100 rounds to a draw in Isle de Souverain, France.

On July 8, 1888, Sullivan and Kilrain met in Richburg, Miss., and fought with bare knuckles, as had Smith and Kilrain. Sullivan defeated Kilrain in 75 rounds, the battle lasting two hours and sixteen minutes.

Smith was only the champion of England," asserts Andrews. "The best he could do against Kilrain was a draw. Sullivan, however, beat Kilrain, so why shouldn't Sullivan have been entitled to the world's championship without a question of doubt?"

Some folks—mostly English—were of the opinion that Charlie Mitchell shared the championship honors with Sullivan because he held Sullivan to a 30-round draw in Chantilly, France, but Mitchell didn't share the honor. The championship was Sullivan's until he was beaten; a draw scored by an opponent against the champion does not have the championship. The rule on this question is plain.

Sullivan's fight with Kilrain was the last bare knuckle battle. Boxing gloves were introduced shortly afterward and Sullivan popularized them by using them in all his theatrical work thereafter. He traveled all over the world, met all comers and beat them all until Jim Corbett crossed his path. Corbett certainly was entitled to the world's championship because he fought Peter Jackson, the negro, who was champion of Australia, to a 61 round draw in 1891, beat Sullivan in 21 rounds on Sept. 7, 1892, and on Jan. 25, 1894, scored a knockout in three rounds over Charlie Mitchell, who was then the undisputed champion of England.

"BUTCHER" SMART WON MODIFIED MARATHON

Took Lead at the Start and Set Fast Pace all The Way.

"Butcher" Smart won the Portsmouth Driving Club's Modified Marathon yesterday afternoon, making fast time from the Parade to the Rockingham Park and keeping the lead all the way. Second place was won by Woods and third by Hicks.

With only six runners starting at the word from Mr. McNichols, the secretary of the Y. M. C. A., although there had been nine names entered the race was one of the features of the day's sports. The starters were Smart, Woods, Cronin, Hicks, Broadfield and Armistead.

The runners got away at Market Square at 1.32 p. m. and a pace too hot for some of them was set at once by Smart. He was there all the way, galloping away in the lead with Broadfield close behind and continued in the lead as they turned the corner of Congress street into Middle. Each of the runners was followed by some friend on a wheel and most of them had several.

After turning into Middle street the hot pace set by Smart began to tell on the others and they commenced to fall back a little. Broadfield was still clinging up with Smart but Armistead quit altogether when Cabot street was reached.

At Ward's corner the runners were in the following order: Smart, Broadfield, Woods, Cronin and Hicks. An eighth of a mile short of the Plains Broadfield was gone and dropped out of the running the rest of the boys passing through the Plains with Smart leading, followed by Woods, Cronin and Hicks. Time at the Plains 13 minutes.

Smart swung into the Sherburne road at 1.31, nineteen minutes after the start, followed by Woods, Hicks, (who has passed Cronin), and Cronin. Smart swung onto the track and did the last half mile in fine style followed by Woods and Hicks, Cronin dropping out after entering the park. Coming down the home stretch Smart hit up his pace and finished the last hundred yards in 14 seconds, with a grin on his face and as fresh as when he started, finishing at 1.37, just 25 minutes after leaving the square.

Woods crossed the line second at 1.39 and Hicks crossed at 1.41. The prizes were given out at once, the cup going to Smart, donated by the Portsmouth Driving Club; five dollars in merchandise to Woods, donated by Norman H. Beane and a $3.50 catcher's mitt donated by Wm. L. Woods going to Hicks.

ELECTRIC CAR TOURS

The gasoline car has held an almost exclusive field as a means of conveyance for motor car tourists. A few electric car owners have ventured in a haphazard way on touring trips but not of any great length on account of lack of information as to locations of charging stations and the knowledge of the proper itineraries to follow.

The Goodrich National Touring Bureau, realizing this condition has prepared a very unique and complete Route Book of all of the territory east of the Hudson river, covering the Harlem Valley of New York and all of the New England states. This book is called "Electric Motor Car Tours of New England" and in addition to detailed route descriptions showing the best highways and the proper turns to make, it lists the locations of each charging station. This information is also shown by diagram may incorporated in the Tour Book. In addition there is a very complete alphabetical list of charging stations compiled by the Electric Motor Car Club of Boston which not only gives the name and address but the classification of the stations into three divisions: one showing service of a large capacity and a full knowledge of electric vehicles, another showing good emergency stations only.

It is possible for the electric car owner to take extended tours not only through Connecticut, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and New York but into the popular resort districts of Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine. He can prepare his itinerary and night stops using the diagram map for such purpose, so as to end each day's trip at a city or town having a charging station.

Copies of this book can be procured gratis from The B. F. Goodrich Company, Boston or New York, or from the Electric Motor Car Club, 39 Boylston street, Boston, Mass.

KITTERY

Breezy Items from the Village Across the River.

The weather Memorial Day was ideal and nothing hindered the fulfillment of all plans as previously arranged for the observance of the day. The usual parade was held in the morning promptly at 8.45 o'clock comrades of E. G. Parker Post, G. A. R., assembled in front of Hotel Brexton.

Col. Jethro H. Sweet, with marshal, Lieut. Edwin A. Duncan, president of the day and Commander of E. G. Parker Post, Charles H. Wilson, special aide officer of the day, U. G. Sweet, Charles Hook, and Leon E. Robbins aides. The procession marched to the navy yard where at the main gate it was joined by a company of sailors from the Montana and a company of marines from the barracks. The following was the order:

E. G. Parker Post, Naval Band, Canton Hayes, No. 7, Boy Scouts, Auto truck containing veterans, Carriage of wreaths, Carriage containing Captain Snowdon and Lt. Commander Klemann of the navy yard.

The column marched to the yard cemetery where exercises were held and the decorating of graves, after which the column returned to the bridge. Here the school children held their exercises and the casting of flowers upon the waters. A prayer was made by Rev. I. J. Merry, a refrain played by the band and the sounding of bells by a bugler.

Then the procession marched to Orchard Grove Cemetery where further exercises were held. The program was carried out as follows:

Prayer, Rev. E. W. Cummings.

Song, Where the Nation's Heroes Sleep, School children, directed by Miss Milla Damon Holms

Reading of Gen. Logan's order No. 11 by Adj. J. H. Sweet

Selections, "Into the Silent Land" and "The Vacant Chair" by the Lyric Male Quartet

Reading, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, Dwight F. Walker.

Song, "When Freedom Called" by school children.

Address, Rev. Harold G. McCann.

Decoration of graves and dirge by band.

Song, "America," by all

Three volleys by marines, and taps by bugler.

Benediction by Rev. A. J. Hayes.

The column reformed and marched back to the corner where it was dismissed.

BE FIT!

Life's First Command!

A large proportion of human inefficiency must be charged to the train of ills resulting from a disordered digestive tract. Weakened by rich foods and over-eating, it becomes clogged and, if neglected, it poisons the blood and throws the entire system out of harmony. Blisters appear on the skin, a dull, grouchy feeling develops, often accompanied by sick headache. The enjoyment of pleasure and the accomplishment of good work become equally difficult. Of greater importance still, the foundation for a severe illness is often laid.

Avoid all these effects. Take Beecham's Pills at the first symptom of indigestion, biliousness or constipation. They are a safe and sure remedy that has stood the test of over 60 years. Made entirely of medicinal herbs—absolutely free from habit-forming drugs.

For a clear complexion, for good digestion and for a life worth living, take

JUDGE GUPTILL TAKES OFFICE

First Session of Court Held This Morning.

Judge Ernest L. Guptill was inducted into office at 9 o'clock this morning in the presence of practically every member of the local bar. He announced the reappointment of Stanton M. Trueman as clerk and administered the oath. The table in front of the bench contained a number of floral offerings from some of the Judge's many friends. One bouquet rested in a beautiful cut glass vase and was from several of the city staff.

The Judge heard a simple case of drunkenness and a young lad for operating a motor cycle without a license. The drunk he placed on probation and the case of the lad he found guilty he reserved his decision as to sentence.

After the court the Judge held an impromptu reception and passed the cigars. The reappointment of Clerk Trueman met with popular favor.

Pictures can be classed as necessities in all homes.

There is always a superfluity of cheap, light-weight silver and a scarcity of pictures among presents especially WEDDING PRESENTS.

A picture is never used up, never thrown aside, but is always a pleasing reminder.

And pictures are not always costly. A good subject, framed appropriately and tastefully, may be had for the price of an undesirable and cheap piece of glass or silver.

MRS. CRANMER DENIES INTERVIEW

Just because the women of Denver on May 18 did not vote as a solid body for Mrs. Nora Wright, who was a candidate for Commissioner of Social Welfare, the New York Times infers that "sufrage is a failure in Colorado."

The following telegram from Judge Ben B. Lindsey to Dr. Anna H. Shaw says in part: "Mrs. Cranmer positively denies interview. Colorado women continue to take usual active interest in voting. Out of eight precincts taken at random in different sections of city, we find 1,119 men voted and 806 women. Weather the worst in years, with snow and rain all day."

Mrs. Mary C. Bradford, State Supt. of Public Instruction for Colorado, says: "Mrs. Cranmer denies having used any of statements quoted. Interview almost entire fabrication. Personally I see no diminution of interest among women voters. They are keenly alive to matters of civic righteousness and active in all political and civic organizations."
